Girl, Four, Victim Of Kerosene Fire

Singer Child Dies After Clothes Ignite

A four-year-old Stroudsburg girl died yesterday at General hospital of third-degree burns suffered in an outdoor kerosene fire Saturday afternoon.

The girl, Arlene June Singer, 927 Ehler St., Arlington Heights and one of her five brothers were watching a burning pile of papers when the accident occurred. The boy poured a can of kerosene on the fire, causing a flare-up which enveloped and ignited his sister's clothing.

An effort was made almost immediately to extinguish the flames by wrapping the child in a blanket. She was taken to General hospital and treated for third-degree burns. She failed to respond to treatment and died at 12:25 p.m. yesterday.

Marshall Neyhart, East Stroudsburg justice of the peace, acting in the capacity of coroner in the absence of Dr. W. E. Andrew, conferred with the attending physician, Dr. E. C. Reese and pronounced death due to third-degree burns. He said no inquest would be necessary.

She was a member of the Cradle Roll, Arlington Heights chapter.

Surviving are her parents, Clarence and Lena Bentzoni Singer, Stroudsburg; five brothers, Donald, Neldon, David, John and Andrew, at home; three sisters, Norma, Rose and Alice, at home; and the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Singer, Stroudsburg.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. at the Lanterman funeral home, Rev. Charles Whittaker officiating. Interment will be made in Stroudsburg cemetery.

Friends may pay their respects Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the funeral home.

Rites Held For Romberg

New York (AP)—Friends prominent in the fields of music, the stage, and film attended a funeral service yesterday for Sigmund Romberg, noted operetta composer. He died Friday at the age of 64.

More than 600 attended the service at a funeral home.

The body was taken to Hartdale, N.Y., in nearby Westchester county, for cremation.

Otto Harbach, president of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, delivered the eulogy at the non-sectarian service.

He called the composer—who wrote 78 musicals and more than 2,000 songs—one of the “great triumvirate” of light opera, along with Victor Herbert and Jerome Kern.

House Republicans Caution Acheson

Washington (AP)—Twenty-six Republican members of the House yesterday jointly cabled Secretary of State Acheson to be on guard against provisions in a proposed United Nations code that might prevent aid for underground liberation movements in Communist countries.

The cable was sent to Acheson, now in Paris attending the U.N. General Assembly, and was released by Rep. Judd (R-Minn), one of the signers.

The proposed code deals with “offenses against the peace and security of mankind.”

The representatives urged Acheson and other U.S. delegates to oppose any section of this code “which would prevent the U.S. government and the American people from being everlasting on the side of human freedom and in support of all who struggle for it and resist tyranny and police state methods.”

Ecuadoran Bus Crash Kills 28

Guayaquil, Ecuador (AP)—Twenty-eight persons were killed and 23 injured yesterday when a passenger bus plunged off the road and fell into a 30-foot ravine near Alausi, about 100 miles east of here.

Several of the injured were reported in a serious condition. Ambulances and doctors were sent to the scene from Alausi. The cause of the accident was unknown.

CRUSADE FOR FREEDOM balloons about to be released to inaugurate membership signatures of 8,445 Monroe Countians and to raise funds to battle world Communism are held by Frank S. LaBar, Chief Burgess Hal Harris and Gerald P. O'Neill in front of the Penn-Stroud hotel Saturday. LaBar and O'Neill are co-chairmen of the local campaign.

Freedom Crusade Balloons Launched At Start Of Drive

The American people's challenge to world Communism—the Crusade for Freedom—got under way here Saturday in a special campaign effort to obtain signatures of 8,445 Monroe citizens to Crusade for Freedom membership scrolls.

Launching of Crusade for Freedom balloons in Stroudsburg in front of the Penn-Stroud hotel also launched the local campaign for signatures and contributions to a fund designed to help finance the crusade's penetrating battle against Communism.

A Freedom motorcade arrived here from Honesdale around noon and the crusade balloons were blown up and released as they have been released by the hundreds to float up to 30,000 feet filled with messages and hopes to peoples behind the Iron Curtain.

Driven by prevailing winds they burst at about 30,000 feet showering the enslaved people of Czechoslovakia and other Russian-dominated nations with messages of encouragement and facts about Western peoples which counter-act the Russian propaganda.

The Crusade for Freedom also finances and operates Radio Free Europe which beams its messages to these same people. The radio's anti-Communist campaign is completely independent of government in its successful penetration with messages of freedom to the captive people of Red rulers.

Saturday two types of balloons were released in ceremonies conducted by Frank S. LaBar and Gerald P. O'Neill, co-chairmen of the local Crusade for Freedom. Chief

Edson Opposes Sending Troops To West Europe

Harrisburg, (AP)—America's plan of sending troops to Europe is a “serious mistake,” says a retired Marine Corps major general.

Maj. Gen. Merritt A. Edson, head of the famed “Edson's Raiders” of World War Two, declared here Russia is more fearful of America's industrial potential than it is of a comparative handful of troops in Western Europe.

“Instead of garrisoning Europe, we should make a clear-cut statement that if any offensive move by Russia crosses a pre-stated line, it will mean world war three, he said.

Edson spoke before a local detachment of the Marine Corps leaving marking the 176th anniversary of the organization of the leather-necks.

Peron Polls 65 Per Cent Of Votes Cast

Buenos Aires, Monday, (AP)—President Juan D. Peron, seeking re-election for a second term, swept to a commanding lead early today in unofficial returns from yesterday's general election.

With 23 per cent of the estimated 6,000,000 votes counted, Peron was leading with 65 per cent of the vote. In his first election in 1946 he won 55 per cent.

The latest unofficial tabulation for 6,748 of the nation's 36,225 precincts gave Peron 902,745 votes to 479,306 for Dr. Ricardo Balbin, candidate of the Radical party, chief opposition to the Peronists.

La Nacion, the only big independent newspaper left in Argentina, reported a general Peronista victory in the election. Leaders of the Radical party, chief opposition to the Peronists, privately admitted defeat.

At midnight, ships docked at Buenos Aires blew whistles to “celebrate the Peron victory,” the undersecretariat of information said. And La Prensa, the government-expropriated independent morning newspaper now about to resume publication as a pro-government labor organ, also blew a whistle.

The vote was unusually heavy in Buenos Aires, national capital, where 92 per cent of the men and more than 90 per cent of the women qualified to cast ballots actually voted. Unprecedented slowness delayed the count as rural roads were mired and communications were disrupted in some areas.

Reports from the scene said the raiders screamed and blew whistles, the first known instance of the Filipino insurgents using tactics similar to those employed by Chinese Communist troops in Korea.

Those killed included one Huks and one Philippine Army soldier. At least eight persons were reported wounded, including four children.

Elements of a Philippine Army infantry battalion pursued the estimated 300 Huks to the slopes of Mount Arayat, which dominates the north-central Luzon plain. Heavy fighting was reported in progress.

The Huks have been trying to discourage voting in tomorrow's election of nine senators and provincial.

The hacked body of a Liberal party provincial leader, Pastor Palaid, 41, was found in central Luzon Saturday night 24 hours after he was kidnapped by the Huks.

His death and those reported today brought to 96 the toll in pre-election violence since mid-September.

Tax Chief Says FDR Appointees Caused Trouble

New York (AP)—Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap said yesterday that the several ousted officials of his department were “political appointees” who took office during the administration of President Roosevelt.

“I think,” he added, “our troubles started in the post-war years.”

He was asked by interviewers what he meant by that.

Dunlap answered that he believed a feeling of patriotism kept the bureau on a high plane during the last world war, but subsequent high taxes and the cost of living had made some inroads.

A House ways and means subcommittee has been investigating the bureau following charges of irregularities. Six collectors have been fired or suspended; two have been indicted.

President Truman has recently supported demands that the collectors’ jobs be taken out of politics and placed under civil service.

Oppose Party Split

Hot Springs, Ark., (AP)—The southern governors conference opened yesterday with pro-Truman forces strongly hinting they are ready to challenge any move to split the Democratic party in next year's presidential election.

Winston Churchill

British Premier To Confer With President Truman

Key West, Fla., (AP)—President Truman and Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain will meet in Washington early in the new year.

President Secretary Joseph Short disclosed yesterday that the meeting probably will take place in January.

Short said there had been an exchange of cable messages between the President and Churchill, who recently was returned to power in the British elections.

Short was asked if French Premier Rene Pleven of France also would attend. He said he “hadn't heard of that.”

Red Shell Fragments Hit Warship

U.S. Eighth Army HQs, Korea, Monday, (AP)—Communist shore batteries yesterday splattered shell fragments on the cruiser Toledo during a three-hour gun duel while deep-stabbing Eighth Army patrols on the central Korean front stirred up Chinese ground resistance.

Far East naval headquarters announced in Tokyo that the Toledo was not damaged and there was no casualties to its personnel.

It was the heaviest day of action for the heavy gun field headed by:

French President Aurio's suggestion of a meeting of heads of State of Great Britain, the United States, France and Russia.

President Truman's challenge to Russia to go along with an American-British-French peace proposal calling for reduction of armed services of all nations and of all arms, including atomic weapons.

Argentina women bailed yesterday for the first time, voting at separate tables from the men. Forty-seven women, all Peronists, are seeking election to the House of Deputies (Congress). Mrs. Eva Peron, the president's ailing wife, heads the powerful Peronista Women's party.

Opposing the package proposal, the Communists want a cease-fire line to be fixed and become effective immediately, leaving settlement of remaining issues to be made later.

Prayers For Peace Mark Armistice Day

(By The Associated Press)
The nation honored its dead of past wars yesterday with Armistice day pledges that America would carry on their fight for freedom.

Prayers for peace were sent up at war memorials throughout the country during the traditional minute of silence at 11 a.m. the hour when fighting stopped in World War One.

But the ceremonies were held in a sombre atmosphere of uncertainty over the outcome of fighting in Korea and fear that the nation might become involved in broader combat.

In some communities, Armistice day ceremonies were postponed until today, the legal holiday.

At the Unknown Soldier's tomb in Arlington National Cemetery, Secretary of Defense Robert A. Lovett led ceremonies in the absence of President Truman, who is vacationing at Key West, Fla.

Lovett said Americans have been living on “dearly purchased time” bought by men who fought and died for “peace, security and the freedom of men.”

“And once more we renew our vows to our heroic dead ‘never to give up in the struggle in which they gave their lives,’ Lovett added.

President Truman said in a recorded broadcast in connection with the ceremonies that “peace—real lasting peace—remains our greatest goal.”

The women said they are protesting prices of houses which the company has decided to sell.

Harmarville, Pa., (AP)—More than 1,000 United Mine Workers who lost a day's pay rather than buck a picket line set up by their wives voted yesterday to return to work pending conferences over prices being charged in the 145 company owned houses.

The picket line appeared suddenly Saturday at pits of the Consumer Mining Co., a subsidiary of Wheeling Steel Corp.

The women said they are protesting prices of houses which the company has decided to sell.

Police arrested the recluse, who had been living in the rude cardboard and board shack and booked him on a vagrancy charge.

Police said the recluse, who gave his name as Otto F. Maynard, was “surely” and refused to talk.

The rest of the Korean front was comparatively quiet, and even in that important central sector the Reds appeared content to let the Allies come to them before taking action.

Shack Yields Security Data

Oakland, Calif., (AP)—A mass of photographs, drawings, clippings and meticulously written material dealing with national defense was found here yesterday in a shack under an approach to the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge. Some of the material dealt with the atom bomb.

Police arrested the 42-year-old recluse who had been living in the rude cardboard and board shack and booked him on a vagrancy charge.

Police said the recluse, who gave his name as Otto F. Maynard, was “surely” and refused to talk.

Pontecorvo May Be Held As Spy

Rome (AP)—Two Rome newspapers gave a new twist to the Bruno Pontecorvo mystery yesterday by saying the missing British scientist had been arrested by the Russians in an effort to plug a leak of their atomic secrets to President Truman.

The papers, Il Tempo and Momento Sera, quoted unidentified Russian sources in Stockholm as saying 38-year-old, Italian-born Pontecorvo, who disappeared more than a year ago with his Swedish wife and three children, had been arrested as a western spy in the Soviet Union.

If Il Tempo and Momento Sera said the Russians believed the United States had a spy among their top ranking atomic scientists and that Pontecorvo may have been the source of the information on which President Truman based his announcements of atomic explosions in the USSR.

Chinese Increase Aid

Hanoi, Indochina, (AP)—A French Army headquarters spokesman declared last night Chinese Communists are increasing their aid to Vietminh forces in Indochina. But, he added, he is confident the French can halt any Red Chinese invasion.

True Safety Subject Of Lecture Here

Frank C. Ayres, C. S., of Indianapolis, Ind., spoke on "Christian Science: The Revelation of True Safety" before a large audience in the Monroe county court house yesterday afternoon. He is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

The world today is crying out for safety. It has been proved that safety cannot be found in matter. Where can it be found? Christ Jesus gave us an answer when he said: "Peace, I leave with you, my peace I give unto you; Not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid." He was not troubled; he was not afraid, for he found peace, true safety, in a clear understanding of God. Mankind will not find true safety until it has gained a practical understanding of God. That is why Christian Science is of vital interest today: Because "not as the world giveth" but as God giveth, Christian Science makes plain our Master's understanding of God.

When mankind learns how to love God supremely and his neighbor as himself, as Jesus did, and sincerely practices such love, we will have eternal peace.

We need to love our neighbor in order to gain our own full salvation. Failing to see our neighbor as God's perfect reflection, we deny our own perfect sonship with God. We consent that evil has presence and power, accept evil's view for God's view, and darken our own thought. With Christian Science we can fight evil skillfully and without fear. We can be courageous because we know that all evil is illusion, which is devoid of any power except that which we mistakenly give it. Our spiritual weapons completely outbalance evil's boasted strength.

Kresgeville

Mrs. W. E. Andrews

All charter members of Camp 58 Auxiliary to the Sons of Veterans of the Civil War are urged to be present at the meeting which will be held in the P. O. S. A. lodge hall on Thursday eve, Nov. 15 at 8 p. m. when the Inspector Mrs. Minnie Kresge, Bethlehem, who organized the camp 28 years ago will pay an official visit to the camp as they will be the guests of honor at this meeting. Refreshments will be served after the meeting in the Social rooms of the hall. Will the members please note the change of the meeting night from Friday Nov. 16 to Thursday night Nov. 15 due to the Senior Class play which will be held in the local high school.

The public is cordially invited to attend the Senior class play which will be presented in the school auditorium on Friday night Nov. 16. It is a comedy entitled "Marrying Margaret." Lelia and Winifred Hunter two vivacious modern girls are engaged to marry brothers just as modern and fun loving. Margaret Hunter their sister who just passed her 25th birthday is quite different from her sisters. She is a plain, matter-of-fact girl, uninterested in men or pretty clothes and is a confirmed bookworm. In all these peculiarities she is aided by her aunt Harriet, a dyed in the wool spinster. The girls' father will not consent to their wedding until their oldest sister Margaret is married. To marry off Margaret will not be an easy matter but the sisters decide to do that very thing at any cost. They even insert an advertisement in the papers for a husband for Margaret. At the same time Aunt Harriet advertises for a handy man around the place. When the handy man and the would-be husbands begin making their appearances the situation becomes screamingly funny. Margaret plays the game well and wins the man she has been waiting for. Even the elderly matroning Aunt Harriet is wounded by cupid's arrow and marries. The play abounds in humorous situations and sparkling lines for an evening of clean fun.

Camp 245 P O of A will hold their birthday supper on Nov. 14 in the social room of the lodge hall and all members are urged to be present.

Camp 245 P O of A is sponsoring a Card party in the lodge hall on Nov. 21 at 8 p. m.

New, Miracle Electronic Ear Hides Deafness

CHICAGO, (Special)—An amazing new electronic ear which hides deafness and transmits even whispers with startling clarity, has been revealed by a noted Chicago electronic scientist.

He disclosed that this miraculous new discovery has rendered old-style hearing aids obsolete almost overnight, and brings new hope to the 15 million persons in the United States who are hard of hearing.

He reported that this electronic ear enables the deaf to hear without any button showing in the ear and without dangling battery wires.

To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with this new miracle electronic ear which hides deafness, full details are contained in a fascinating booklet, "New Discovery Helps the Deaf Hear." It will be sent free in a plain wrapper to anyone who requests it. Address: Electronic Research Director, 1450 West 19th Street, 922A Beltane Building, Chicago 8, Ill. A penny postcard will do.—Adv.

Units Of 28th Division Appear In Farewell Parade Today

Company G To March In Philadelphia

Philadelphia (AP) — Two thousand troops—only a small part of Pennsylvania's famed 28th Division—arrived in Philadelphia yesterday for an Armistice day parade before going to Europe as part of the Atlantic Pact Army.

They came in six trains from Camp Atterbury, Ind., and were taken directly to the Navy yard to board the USS General Butler, 16,000-ton transport which will carry them to Europe.

Today another 1,000 soldiers, including Company G, of East Stroudsburg, will arrive to participate in the parade which starts at 2 p.m. The major portion of the division went to Hampton Roads, Va., for embarkation.

Units arriving yesterday spent their time aboard ship preparing for the voyage and greeting relatives and friends who were permitted in the Navy yard for the occasion.

They were taken to North Philadelphia last night to enjoy a huge farewell party given in the 11th Infantry armory.

The soldiers are members of the division band, medical detachment, 28th Division artillery; headquarters, 28th Division artillery; 108th Field Artillery Battalion and 103rd Engineers Combat Battalion.

They found their ship somewhat different from those which took troops of the 28th across the Atlantic twice previously—in World Wars One and Two. It is more nearly comparable to the passenger liners that cross the seas in peacetime. Each man will have a bunk of his own and three meals a day. There is an organized recreation program and provision for entertainment.

The skipper, Capt. Charles Khouri, is an old friend to the 28th, for during World War Two he commanded the transport General Pope when it carried some men of the division to fight in France and Germany.

Sailing dates of the Butler and others which will carry the division will not be announced until after their departures. Destination of the 28th is a secret, although a high-ranking officer disclosed recently it probably will go to the Stuttgart area of southern Germany.

Arriving today to march in the parade will be: 28th Reconnaissance Company (Philadelphia's first city troop) and the Second Battalion, 109th Infantry Regiment of Carbondale, East Stroudsburg and Honesdale.

Heading the parade will be the famed 28th Division band of Altoona.

Troops getting here today will re-board trains at the Pennsylvania railroad's 30th St. station and move to Camp Kilmer, N. J., to await shipment overseas with later groups of the 28th Division.

Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, 28th commander, and military and civilian guests will review the parade at historic Independence Hall after the units have marched down Benjamin Franklin parkway and around City hall.

General Strickler will then fly to Westover field, Mass., to make the transoceanic journey by plane.

Doll-Dressing Contest Ends On Thursday

Some time ago the Salvation Army made an appeal for dolls to be dressed for the children for Christmas. A number of dolls have come in and on Thursday night these dolls will be on display and will be judged by a group of four women.

They will be judged by Mrs. Helen Roberts, Mrs. Helen Minich, Mrs. Estelle Fleming and Mrs. Peter Wyckoff.

These dolls will be on display in the recreation hall at the Salvation Army and the judging will commence at 8 p.m. Anyone who has a doll and would like it to be judged with the others may contact Major May Adam at 849.

There are not enough dolls for the children at Christmas yet, and the Salvation Army would appreciate it if some more could be given for this project.

Theater Crowds Witness Tragedy

New York, (AP)—Homeward-bound Broadway theater crowds early yesterday witnessed a real drama, the tragedy of a man plunging to his death from an 18th-story ledge.

Police reported no progress on the hunt for the two bands.

Brother Silusius, who headed the order for 18 years, told police before his death that the men robbed him of $90 and a religious medal. He had planned to go back to Europe in a few days.

$2,000,000 Loss

In Eastman Fire

Rochester, N. Y., (AP)—Firemen still poured water on smoldering rolls of photographic paper in the top floor of an Eastman Kodak building yesterday, more than 24 hours after the start of a $2,000,000 blaze.

Gas Explosion Wrecks Home, Starts Blaze

Bartonsville — Explosion of bottled gas and resulting fire severely damaged the residence of Grant Heller here yesterday afternoon.

The explosion occurred about 1:20 p.m., blowing one outside partition of the bungalow loose from foundation and flooring.

When the Pocono Township Fire Co. arrived from Tannersville, the cottage interior was completely afame, according to Chief Edward Metzgar.

A nearby dammed-up stream was used as water source by firemen who extinguished the blaze shortly after arrival. The company's four trucks and all available equipment were used to speed the battle against the fire.

According to Chief Metzgar, however, the contents were destroyed.

His investigation revealed that the owner had apparently been absent; the bottled gas tank outside the cottage was disconnected from the heater.

The owner's brother, Horace H. Heller, Stroudsburg contractor, had gone to the place yesterday and turned on the bottled gas tank again from outside the building.

The inside pipe, however, was still apparently open, Chief Metzgar said. Heller placed an electric heater inside the building to warm it up, and after enough gas accumulated, the explosion occurred, Metzgar said. No injuries were reported, and no estimate of the extensive damage was available.

Grange Wins High Honor

Milford—At a meeting of Pomona Grange 64 (Monroe and Pike counties) here, members were notified that a community project sponsored by Pocono Grange 1415, Tannersville, had been awarded eighth prize in a state-wide contest.

The project—the recently opened Pocono township public dumping grounds—was awarded the prize in competition with entries from 763 granges in this state. The award makes the Pocono Grange entry eligible for competition in the national contest later this year.

The 43-member Pocono Grange, under the direction of Charles Van Sciver during the past year, has engaged in numerous other community projects in conjunction with other local organizations.

Soloist for the services was Michael Hannon, baritone.

Rev. Eaton addressed the congregation on "What Price Freedom". A moment of silence was observed in closing.

Last night's religious services were a calm prelude to today's interborough parade in which members of the veterans' organizations will also participate.

Leading team in the membership race is headed by Bernard Helman with 19 members to date.

Following the placing of a wreath at the doughboy monument in courthouse square, marching organizations will assemble on Ann St. in rear of the YMCA.

The parade will get under way at 9 a.m., proceeding from Williams St. to Main St., Stroudsburg; east on Main to Washington St.; down Washington to S. Courtland St.; turn right at the East Stroudsburg postoffice; right at Crystal St. to Brown St.; cross bridge to Normal St. onto Prospect St. and proceed to East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Prosecutor was Game Warden John Doebling. Adding to the expenses of Scarborough's illegal hunting excursion was payment of $13 costs in the case and the loss of his shotgun by confiscation.

State Republican

Women To Gather

Harrisburg, (AP)—The emphasis will be on presidential talk for 1952 at the two-day convention of the Republican Council of Republican Women, opening here today.

Some 1,500 women from all sections of the State will participate in the meeting on the theme "Strategy for Strength".

Sen Robert H. Taft (R-Ohio), the only announced Republican candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, will speak Tuesday night on the subject, "Our job—making freedom reality." He will share the platform with Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.).

Pennsylvania's other Republican senator, James H. Duff, was assigned to speak today a day before Taft goes on the platform. Duff, who just finished a swing through Texas to boom Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination, will talk on "What price world leadership".

Mrs. Lewis Heckman, Mrs. Walter Davis, and Lewis Davis were in Scranton, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Haviland Heller, of Bartonsville, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Heller, Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Collins, of Sunbury, have sent word to local relatives and friends of the birth of a daughter, which is their third child. Mrs. Collins is the former Lenora Dippre of Mountainhome, and Mr. Collins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Collins, of this place. The child has been named Susan Jane, and was born October 28.

$75,000 Given

To Penn State

State College, (AP)—An anonymous $75,000 bequest was made to the Pennsylvania State College yesterday to promote religious work on the campus.

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, college president, said the money will be used for the work of the college chaplain and for the activities of the Penn State Christian association.

"Leave watch in room" and "Leave coat in public bathroom." A pencil mark outlined the hallway window through which he crawled to the 18-inch ledge.

Police were summoned by a hotel guest occupying a 17th floor room. But the tragedy's climax came before they arrived.

Heckman Hearing Postponed

Mountainhome — Hearing was postponed until 2 p.m. Wednesday here for Claude Heckman, Canadensis, charged with involuntary manslaughter and failing to stop at an accident scene.

Police claim Heckman drove the vehicle which struck and killed his brother, Floyd, on Route 390 near Canadensis, a week ago.

Hearing originally had been set for 2 p.m. today before Justice of the Peace Nelson B. Eckert here. District Attorney Detlef A. Hansen said Claude Heckman, now free on $1,500 appearance bond, is represented by Attorney Forrest Mervine.

A nearby dammed-up stream was used as water source by firemen who extinguished the blaze shortly after arrival. The company's four trucks and all available equipment were used to speed the battle against the fire.

According to Chief Metzgar, however, the contents were destroyed.

His investigation revealed that the owner had apparently been absent; the bottled gas tank outside the cottage was disconnected from the heater.

Nearly three hundred persons attended the special Armistice day services at East Stroudsburg Methodist church last night, according to Rev. Harold C. Eaton, pastor of the church.

Included in the congregation, besides members of the church, were representatives of American Legion George M. Kemp post, the Thomas E. Lambert VFW post, auxiliaries of both organizations, the American Legion Drum and Bugle corps, Civil Air patrol and members of the Marine Corps Junior Rifle platoon.

Speaking from the platform were Franklin Weller, commander of the VFW, and chaplain Robert N. Hilton; commander Earl Palmer of the American Legion and the chaplain, Harry Hoffman, all of whom spoke briefly on the meaning of Armistice day.

Music for the program was directed by Ernest Michelfelder, church organist. A trumpet trio, consisting of Ernest Michelfelder Jr., Robert Stanle and Barry Lambert, assisted with the congregational singing.

Soloist for the services was Michael Hannon, baritone.

Rev. Eaton addressed the congregation on "What Price Freedom". A moment of silence was observed in closing.

Last night's religious services were a calm prelude to today's interborough parade in which members of the veterans' organizations will also participate.

Leading team in the membership race is headed by Bernard Helman with 19 members to date.

An attendance of some 300 members were served a turkey platter. The meal was arranged for by the trustees of the lodge.

The parade will get under way at 9 a.m., proceeding from Williams St. to Main St., Stroudsburg; east on Main to Washington St.; down Washington to S. Courtland St.; turn right at the East Stroudsburg postoffice; right at Crystal St. to Brown St.; cross bridge to Normal St. onto Prospect St. and proceed to East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

More Than A Change

One of the dreary things that happens after every local election is the comment coming from political leaders about the "significance" of the results.

After Tuesday's results, it was the same old story. Democrats saying what happened has nothing to do with '52. Republicans saying the results were evidence the voters "want a change in 1952."

It will surprise us if the voters don't want a change. But they will want more than a mere change.

If we judge them rightly, they will want a constructive offer. They will want real leadership. They will want a candidate who deserves their confidence.

They will want something more than mere ambition, platitudes and partisan sniping. They will want somebody who can stand up and be counted.

Bring 'em on!

May Be Contagious

The animal world seems to have become suddenly restive, moody, unpredictable. From all over the country come stories of mettlesome, skittish beasts which at this time of year should be thinking about digging in for a normal winter's repose.

But no. In Philadelphia, a fretful deer runs slightly amuck and is shot down in a subway—shades of J. Fenimore Cooper!

In Boston, a curious fox which has been haunting the State Capitol for a week was captured alive but uncommunicative.

In Alaska, two bull moose locked antlers in deadly combat while a plane from the ubiquitous United States Fish and Wildlife Service swooped low overhead and agents thumbed nervously through Government pamphlets for guidance.

A 300-pound bear in Maine ran out of the woods and challenged a truck bearing seven men. In the ensuing fight, Amos Wilson, 32, ducked several haymakers and dispatched the bear with an ax.

In Arkansas, two leopards, two black bears, one polar bear and six rhesus monkeys escaping from a circus truck lent frightful authenticity to Halloween.

Human irritability is a baneful thing, and there is so much of it in the world of people today that animals can scarcely be blamed if they are caught up in the same woeful tide of shifting beliefs and balances.

Beer Barrel Dirge

Inflation, a two-bit word for the fact that something costs you twice what you can afford, has at long last knocked Milwaukee and New York to the sawdust.

Despite the best efforts of Mike DiSalle and the United American Friends of a Long Tall Cool One, the price of beer has foamed over in those two cities. It will take more than a bung-starter to stop this flood.

Milwaukee, proud capital of the suds industry and last stand of the nickel glass of beer, has pushed the price up to ten cents.

Haughty New York, always first with the most, ups the cost from a dime to 15 cents for a thin shell of lager or pilsener.

We were unaware that you could still get a beer for a nickel in Milwaukee, but it's good to know that the thrifty burghers of that well-fed and well-quenched city held out so long.

Sorrow will spread from coast to coast, though, for the nickel beer will long be remembered as the poor man's Scotch, as a bottomless repository for honest tears and as the last stand of a rugged but damp individualism.

It has now been swept away by a flood of government rules and the dry laws of economics. So, drink a toast to the beakers that foam no more for five cents. And while you're at it, have one in memory of the nickel, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Likewise Jr.

Ann Falcone, M. Likewise Are Married

Martin Likewise Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Likewise, of White Wheel Inn, East Stroudsburg, RD 3, and Miss Ann Falcone, daughter of James Falcone, of Brooklyn, N. Y., were married Saturday afternoon at 5 in the rectory of St. Mary's Catholic church, Mount Pocono.

They were attended by the bride's sister, Miss Christine Falcone, and by the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Frederick Blythe.

The bride wore a champagne-colored suit of gabardine with a navy blue hat, and navy cobra shoes and bag, and a corsage of red roses. Her maid of honor wore a royal blue dress with black accessories, while the bridegroom's mother wore a black print dress with black accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception for about 20 guests was held at the White Wheel Inn where Mr. and Mrs. Likewise will make their home when they returned from a wedding trip to New York City. Mr. Likewise is a graduate of Richmond Hill, L. I., High school, and served two and a half years in the U. S. Navy. He is now employed at Worthington Mower.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

With an even thirty meetings listed on the calendar between now and Thursday night, it looks like a busy time for the home folks. Each meeting, taken by itself, sounds terrific. They've really gone all out for programs this week.

It's only when you look at the whole, long list that you get such a desperate feeling of being caught up in a whirlpool and the fear that you'll never get your feet on firm ground again.

Frigate Meets Tuesday Night

The Monroe County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will meet Tuesday, November 13, on the second floor at the Stroudsburg municipal building. The executive board will meet at 7 and the general meeting will begin at 7:45 p.m.

Matters of much importance will be considered at the meeting, and all members, particularly the new members, are urged to be present in order that they may become acquainted with the activities of the society.

Grange Meets Tuesday Night

Cherry Valley — The Cherry Valley Grange No. 1821, Stormville, will meet Tues., Nov. 13, at 8:30. A dress rehearsal for the minstrel will follow the meeting. The minstrel will be held on November 15 and 16.

The installation of officers has been postponed until the next meeting, November 29, and a square dance will be held Saturday, November 17, at the grange hall at 8:30 with Raymond Pootstra as caller. The Blue Mountain Plowboys will furnish the music.

Mrs. Dunn Leads Service At Forks Reformed Church

Mrs. Melvin Dunn, Stroudsburg chairman of Thank-offerings for the Eastern Pennsylvania Synodical of the Women's Guilds of the Evangelical and Reformed church, was in charge of the ingathering of the thankofferings at the Forks Ev. and Reformed church near Easton yesterday morning.

The church was crowded for the service, and Mrs. Dunn presented both the spiritual and material facts of the use of the thankofferings gifts and the obligation of the individual member through a dramatization. She was assisted by Miss Helen Shick, and in the musical portion and prayer closing by Miss Mary Frances Frankenfield and Miss Ann Shaffler of Stroudsburg.

Rev. Floyd Shafer is pastor of the Forks church.

Around The Stroudsburgs

Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Lord Hazleton, former local residents, were Saturday afternoon visitors here when they were greeted by their many friends.

Van D. Yetter Points Out Many Uses For McCulloch One, Two-Man Chain Saws

Van D. Yetter carries the famous "McCulloch" one-man and two-man chain saw.

The McCulloch portable power chain saw has every feature to make fast and easy operations out of felling, bucking, ripping, limbing, and angle cutting. It's the real answer for high-speed, economical land clearing—the best tool for forestry and timber work in all industries.

The outstanding exclusive feature of the McCulloch is its special light-weight engine, developed through years of experience with high-output engines for aircraft and other exacting applications.

High strength/weight ratio was accomplished by using McCulloch-designed, McCulloch-made, high-pressure die-castings for all non-ferrous parts. A new type of magneto generates a superhot spark for instant starting. To simplify starting even further, a new kick-proof recoil starter is built in.

The new floatless carburetor enables the engine to operate in any position at full efficiency. The clutch is fully automatic; it stops the chain at idling speeds.

Either all-purpose or special chains are available for McCulloch saws. All-purpose McCulloch chains will crosscut, rip, and cut roots and angles. Special McCulloch chains are recommended for extremely hard and frozen woods, unusually large soft woods, boring and other specific uses.

Stop in or call Van D. Yetter today and ask to see a demonstration of these wonderful McCulloch chain saws . . . Van's salesroom is located on Route 402 near Marshalls Creek, or just phone 2832.

Scout Advisers To Meet Tuesday

The monthly roundtable meeting for all adult "scouters" and advisers to the Boy Scouts will be held tomorrow night at 8 at Stroudsburg High school.

The monthly district meeting has been postponed until December.

Stop in at Haynes Motors today, they have in their wheel balancing department the finest wheel balancing machine obtainable today, and they have the expert mechanics to use . . . Haynes Motors, "your friendly Ford dealer," is located at N. Ninth and Scott Sts., Stroudsburg.

Progressives To Hold Conference

New York (P)—The Progressive party will hold a Middle Atlantic states conference in Philadelphia Nov. 17-18 to prepare for the 1952 elections. C. B. Baldwin, party secretary, has announced.

Baldwin said 300 party workers and leaders from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, and the District of Columbia will attend the conference at the Adelphia hotel.

He said the conference is being held pursuant to a resolution adopted at a meeting of the party's national committee in Minneapolis last August, declaring that there shall be "a peace candidate at every level of office, including the office of president" entered in the 1952 election.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE recently-announced 1952 Packard line are "fashion-keying by Dorothy Draper," famous color stylist and decorator; and Packard Easematic Power Brakes. New features of the 1952 Packard "200" Deluxe touring sedan, above, include design touches on side moldings, new louvers and special grille and bumper design.

Matching the colorful new exterior hues, with emphasis on two-tone combinations, are brilliant interiors. Easematic power brakes, optional on all models at slight extra cost, reduce pedal pressure 40 per cent and cut "reaction lag" an average of 29 per cent.

More than 70 mechanical changes and improvements have been incorporated into the eight body styles of the 1952 Packard line.

"FASHION-KEYED by Dorothy Draper" is the way the recently announced new 1952 Packard models are described. The world-famed color stylist and fashion director, shown above, matches trim material with color styling. In such counseling with Mrs. Draper, Packard officials said a "personality study" of each new model checked it "far beyond the usual trim details." Matching the heightened exterior color trends of new hues and two-tone combinations, are the equally brilliant interiors of all new 1952 Packard models, making use of lively-colored fabrics and genuine leather with contrasting stripes.

Giant-Size Figures To Fill Streets Of Stroudsburgs

One of America's most unusual outdoor entertainment attractions will be presented in Stroudsburg on Monday, December 10, at 6:30 p.m. when the Jean Gros parade of giant balloons appears here under the sponsorship of the Retail Trades division of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce.

The parade will be composed of all sorts of quaint and queer figures that have been fashioned from rubber balloons in an ingenious way. A few of the figures are small enough to be carried by one person, but most of the characters are of gargantuan proportions.

The unit which will parade here is one of three originated, designed, and produced by Jean Gros, of Pittsburgh. Although the balloons in their deflated condition can all be packed into trunks that are transported in several trucks, they represent a large investment which runs into thousands of dollars.

Gros has drawn from fable and fantasy as well as the world of reality in creating the mammoth figures. Some of the balloons are propelled on light trailers and others are carried by squads of large boys. More than 175 persons comprise the parade crew required to present the feature over a line of march that will stretch for 2½ miles.

Fairy tale characters, caricatures of humans and animals, giant figures resembling toys, and purely fantastic monstrosities will be in the parade, and all of the balloons have been carefully created to appeal to the imaginations of both children and adults. The entire parade has been designed for the pleasure of spectators and with the particular objective of making children laugh.

Since the balloons are inflated with nothing but air, they are entirely safe.

Arrangements for the parade are now being made by the sponsor, Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with public officials. The route will be announced in the near future, along with other details. Committee in charge includes:

General chairman, Christmas committee, John Muller; Parade Max Stadfeld; Finance, Stroudsburg; Don Holmgren; Finance, East Stroudsburg; Ralph Lessone; Bands, and Choral Groups, Numa Snyder; Physical, Ted Henning and Ralph Ellerberger; Personnel, William Clark; Labor, William Clark; Parade Manager, Frank Weller; Police Protection, Merle Ostrom.

MUSTEROLE

YOU AND THE FUTURE—NO. 7 OF A SERIES

IS RELIGION OUT OF DATE?

Disregarding loose theories to the contrary, men have been roaming this earth for about 6,000 years.

When we stop to think about it, the events of this mere iota of time, no matter how many history books they may fill, are of no importance whatever—except as they are related to the infinitely great and vast eternity! How could it be otherwise?

Yet business, politics, entertainment, and a million trifles loom before us, obscuring our vision of that all-important eternity.

It is like being "lost in the woods." Of course, it is important that we be familiar with the affairs of this life; but we must be sure that they do not prevent our attaining eternal life.

Don't become so confused by the dense "woods" of modern times that you lose sight of that incomparably vital destination.

It is easy to see that the only truly important things—the only enduring things—are religious things; because spiritual things are our guides through the "woods" to eternity. Have you ever thought of it just that way?

Take one spiritual thing, for instance, that some people consider unimportant: the Sabbath. They think the Sabbath is completely out of joint with the times. It is just the opposite: the times are out of joint with spiritual things!

The Sabbath, as you know, is a day consecrated by God Himself for spiritual and physical rest. It is a regenerating force that benefits us now and for eternity. It renews our faith and trust in God and strengthens our allegiance to Him.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Stroudsburg High gained a measure of revenge on Saturday, with a 19-0 victory over Northampton, a team that has long held the Indian-sign on the Mountaineers. However, on the other hand East Stroudsburg High lost an opportunity to at least share in the Lehigh-Northampton league championship by bowing to Northampton by a 27-6 count, although the game was much closer than the score might indicate. Stroudsburg won its contest in the second half, while the Cavaliers dug their own grave during the first and second quarters, as Nazareth constructed a 14-0 edge at the halfway mark.

The Blue Eagles, who have now gone 19 games without a setback, were stopped almost cold on the ground in the first half, but the charges of Coach Andy Leh exhibited a passing attack that seemed had the Cavaliers bewildered, although the visiting line was rushing the passer all afternoon. In fact, this writer would say that the two outstanding East Stroudsburg players were members of the line, namely Dick Transue and Joe Shea. Transue's performance was the best in his scholastic career.

Dick scored the touchdown on a pass from Paul "Candy" Miller that covered 12 yards and brought in a couple of additional aerials, once when he was the only receiver down field. Transue's defensive play was also outstanding. Speaking of catching passes brings to mind that Floyd Williams was at it again, combining with Karl Weingartner on a 35-yard aerial play that resulted in Stroudsburg's first touchdown in the third period. Williams and Transue are right near the top, if not alone on the number one perch, as pass receivers in their respective circuits.

The East Stroudsburg-Nazareth contest appeared as if it were going to be a real battle in the first quarter, when a bad pass from center, the first one this writer has seen Dick London make this season, set up the initial touchdown for the home team. The Cavaliers, with Captain Marlin "Ducky" Maritz, Dick Merring and John "Juice" Arnst carrying the ball in outstanding fashion, marched from their own 40 to the Nazareth four yard stripe before the ball was knocked from Arnst's grasp and a Nazareth lineman fell on the rolling pigskin. This and the actual touchdown, were the only absolute threats presented by the Cavaliers all afternoon, although if a break or two would have gone the other way, it would have been a real championship battle.

When Martz lost the toss to Nazareth prior to the kickoff, it was the seventh time in eight games that the opposition had the choice of receiving or kicking off. Coach Jack Kist threw a ten man line against the Nazareth forces in the shadows of the East Stroudsburg goal and the move worked, throwing the home team back 17 yards on two plays. However, when the Cavaliers switched to a six-man line and had plenty of pass defenders in the secondary, Nazareth tossed a touchdown pass right at the end of the first half. Dr. Frank Maguire, supervisor of scholastic football and basketball officials, was on hand for the game and had a large audience, from a distance, as he had a chat with one of the officials at the end of the game, although nobody but the two taking part in the conversation knows what was said.

Dr. Maguire is scheduled to speak at a Nazareth testimonial on Wednesday, December 5, Joe Whalen and Howard Atwell were all set to make their tape recording of Saturday's contest between East Stroudsburg and Nazareth, when they found that there wasn't a bit of power at the field. However, engineer Ernie Transue rigged up a long power line from a garage owned by Mrs. Jones, and the program went off successfully. Jack Boushell, well known East Stroudsburg athlete and a member of the Roseto Redskins' backfield, was the spotter during the broadcast for the Cavaliers.

The longest run of the present campaign for a local gridiron was unbroken by Don Garaventi, a defensive back for Stroudsburg. Garaventi intercepted a Northampton pass on his own two yard stripe and scampered 98 yards into the opposition's end zone, thus greatly to a magnificent block on Northampton's five yard line by Alden "Red" Fetherman, who according to reports played one of the finest games of his scholastic career. Although winning only three of nine games played thus far this season, the present campaign certainly isn't a total loss, as victories for Stroudsburg over Northampton have been few and far between down through the years.

Rumors having Jack Kist, East Stroudsburg mentor, moving to Wilson Borough are unfounded as far as the popular Eastburg mentor is concerned. Jack was approached on the matter several seasons ago but declined the invitation at the time. Kist said last night that he hasn't been contacted by the schools since that one time.

Northampton Falls Before Stroudsburg's Spurt, 19-0

Weingartner's Passing Tells Final Story

Northampton—Stroudsburg High notched its third win in nine football starts this season on Saturday, when the Mountaineers rode to a 19-0 victory over Northampton on the passing arm of Karl Weingartner and a 98-yard run by Don Garaventi. The contest was played here on the losing team's home field.

The Konkrete Kids, nearing the end of one of their most dismal football seasons in history, held a superior Stroudsburg eleven in check during the first half, but the Mountaineers began to roll in the third quarter.

Weingartner picked up the touchdown tempo when he hit glue-fingered Floyd Williams early

END OF ROAD—Norman Friend, ESSTC halfback, is shown about to be brought to earth during the first half of Saturday's tussle with Ithaca College. Jack Carona (white uniform) is making the tackle for the visiting eleven. Bob Riel (40) is also pictured in the play for ESSTC. The Warriors went on to win, 34-0.

ESSTC Runs Wild Over Ithaca In Home Finale

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College assured itself of at least a .500 season in football on Saturday, when the Warriors presented their top offensive outburst of the campaign to swamp a bewildered Ithaca College contingent, 34-0, on the Normal Hill gridiron. It was the final home game of the season for ESSTC.

The excitement had hardly subsided when the Mountaineers returned to the attack once again. This time Weingartner picked up a play that covered 45 yards and resulted in the second touchdown of the day. Again the extra point attempt failed.

Northampton showed signs of breaking its scoring famine in the fourth quarter on two different occasions, but both times a stubborn Stroudsburg defense turned the threats aside.

The Konkrete Kids had advanced to the Stroudsburg 20, with slightly less than a minute to go in the ball game. A last ditch pass fell into the waiting arms of Garaventi and behind the solid blocking of Fetherman and his mates, the defensive halfback raced 98 yards for a touchdown, after grabbing the ball out of the ozone on his own two.

This time Fetherman calmly put the ball squarely between the uprights, to give the Mountaineers a comfortable margin of victory.

Lock Haven—Lock Haven State Teachers College booted the dreams of an undefeated season for East Stroudsburg State Teachers College right into the goal on Saturday, when the Bald Eagles tagged the Warriors with a costly 3-1 setback.

It was the first loss in four outings for the charges of Coach Howard DeNile. The Warriors were also held at a 2-2 deadlock with the home team. The Cavaliers, with Captain Marlin "Ducky" Maritz, Dick Merring and John "Juice" Arnst carrying the ball in outstanding fashion, marched from their own 40 to the Nazareth four yard stripe before the ball was knocked from Arnst's grasp and a Nazareth lineman fell on the rolling pigskin. However, when the Cavaliers switched to a six-man line and had plenty of pass defenders in the secondary, Nazareth tossed a touchdown pass right at the end of the first half. Dr. Frank Maguire, supervisor of scholastic football and basketball officials, was on hand for the game and had a large audience, from a distance, as he had a chat with one of the officials at the end of the game, although nobody but the two taking part in the conversation knows what was said.

Dr. Maguire is scheduled to speak at a Nazareth testimonial on Wednesday, December 5, Joe Whalen and Howard Atwell were all set to make their tape recording of Saturday's contest between East Stroudsburg and Nazareth, when they found that there wasn't a bit of power at the field. However, engineer Ernie Transue rigged up a long power line from a garage owned by Mrs. Jones, and the program went off successfully. Jack Boushell, well known East Stroudsburg athlete and a member of the Roseto Redskins' backfield, was the spotter during the broadcast for the Cavaliers.

The longest run of the present campaign for a local gridiron was unbroken by Don Garaventi, a defensive back for Stroudsburg. Garaventi intercepted a Northampton pass on his own two yard stripe and scampered 98 yards into the opposition's end zone, thus greatly to a magnificent block on Northampton's five yard line by Alden "Red" Fetherman, who according to reports played one of the finest games of his scholastic career. Although winning only three of nine games played thus far this season, the present campaign certainly isn't a total loss, as victories for Stroudsburg over Northampton have been few and far between down through the years.

Rumors having Jack Kist, East Stroudsburg mentor, moving to Wilson Borough are unfounded as far as the popular Eastburg mentor is concerned. Jack was approached on the matter several seasons ago but declined the invitation at the time. Kist said last night that he hasn't been contacted by the schools since that one time.

When Martz lost the toss to Nazareth prior to the kickoff, it was the seventh time in eight games that the opposition had the choice of receiving or kicking off.

Coach Jack Kist, East Stroudsburg mentor, moved to Wilson Borough, where he is now coach of the football team. He has been a member of the Roseto Redskins' backfield, was the spotter during the broadcast for the Cavaliers.

"No Comment" From Fact Finding Group

Kansas City, (P)—The Missouri Valley Conference's fact finding committee had "no comment" yesterday after an eight-hour study of Oklahoma A. and M.'s reply in the Johnny Bright broken jaw case.

It was an unannounced, "secret" session.

Bright, Drake University's record breaking Negro halfback, sustained a broken jaw in a game with Oklahoma A. and M. at Stillwater, Okla., October 20. A. and M. won 27-14 after Bright left the game early in the first quarter.

Drake officials charged that Bright was "the victim of vicious, malicious and intentional attacks," they charged that Wilbans Smith, Oklahoma tackle, four times struck Bright when the Drake star had handed off the ball and moved out of the play.

Heard Charges

The special committee heard the Drake charges in a special meeting at Kansas City October 28. Drake presented moving pictures in slow motion of the game, still pictures from the Des Moines Register-Tribune and statements of its players as evidence.

Oklahoma A. and M. asked the privilege of studying the charges before making its reply.

Dr. George Small of Tulsa University, chairman of the fact finding group, said the Oklahoma A. and M. reply was received by mail. Neither of the schools involved attended the meeting yesterday.

Junior Varsity Contest

Bangor—Bangor and Pen Argyl junior varsity football teams are scheduled for action today on the former's home field, in the final outing of the present campaign for both grid machines. The kickoff is slated to take place at 3:30 p.m.

Bolt Wins Top Prize In North-South

By Ken Alyta

Pinehurst, N. C. (AP) — Tommy Bolt, Durham, N. C., professional saved his best round for the finish, a three-under par 69, for a total of 233 to win the North and South Open golf tournament yesterday by three strokes over John Barnum, husky Grand Rapids, Mich., pro.

Bolt's first major victory brought him the top prize of $1,500 in this $7,500 tournament on rounds of 71, 72, 71, 69. He was five under par for his four trips around the 7,007-yard number two championship course of the Pinehurst Country club.

Bolt, a stroke on top going into the last round, quickly lengthened his lead with a three under par 69 on the front nine. He coasted in from there as his chief contenders were unable to match that pace.

Barnum, whose principal claim to professional fame heretofore was the winning of this year's Michigan Open title, was perhaps more of a surprise in finishing second than was Bolt in winning. Barnum, at six feet, four inches and weighing in at 215, is one of the biggest men in professional circles. His golf matched his size in this tournament as he turned in rounds of 71-73-72-70 for 286 and second money of $1,000.

Former Masters champion Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., closed with a rush, five-under 67, for 287 and third money of $750. His 67, best round of the tournament, was matched by Shelly Mayfield of Cedarhurst, N. Y., whose 288 tied him for fourth place with Jimmy Adams, British Ryder Cupper from Scotland, and Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., who led after 36 holes and was only a stroke behind Bolt after 54, but fell to 73 yesterday.

The 33-year-old Bolt, a native of Oklahoma, spent many years in Texas before hooking up with a Durham driving range operator over a year ago. He tied for fourth last year and a week later was second in the Savannah, Ga., open, his best performance up to yesterday.

He was twenty-seventh money winner for the year with slightly over $5,000 in earnings going into this tournament.

In addition to Adams, Dai Reis and Max Faulkner of the British Ryder Cup squad made their way into the money list.

Low amateur was Francis "Bo" Wininger of Pleasantville with 292 after shooting his third 72 yesterday.

Bowl Pictures Begin To Take Shape As Result Of Weekend Grid Battles Across United States

New York, (AP)—The names of the teams which will score the touchdowns in next January's bowl games aren't certain yet, but you can bet next week's pay check they'll score lots of touchdowns.

Ranked Second
Illinois, ranked second, rolled over Iowa, 40-13, on the road to the Rose Bowl, where it now appears they'll take on Stanford. The surprising Indians downed Southern California, 27-20, in a thrill-packed game at Los Angeles with a script that might have been written in nearby Hollywood. USC was number six in the poll and Stanford number seven, but that didn't stop Bill Mathias, Gary Kerkorian and the other Stanford stars.

Michigan State number five in the poll, hit that figure on the nose as they hit their season's peak with a tremendous 35-0 licking of Notre Dame. The Spartans, scoring on their first play from scrimmage and smashing the Irish attempt to climb back to the pigskin peak, can't go a-hawking, however, because of a Big Ten agreement.

Nor can fourth-ranked Princeton, which rushed Harvard 54-13 after a slow first half. The Tigers are bound by an Ivy group agreement.

But the other first five teams are eligible and they looked like first class bowl material Saturday.

Tennessee, ranked first in the AP's top ten poll, crushed Washington & Lee, 60-14, and looks as a prime candidate for the Sugar Bowl. Very possibly Gen.

Bob Neyland's Vols may face third-ranking Maryland, which whipped Navy, 40-21. Maryland, of course, must get the approval of the Southern Conference at a meeting next month.

Sugar if Tennessee should stumble—is Kentucky. The team from the Blue Grass state got off slowly, but they're moving now like a top thoroughbred coming down the stretch in the derby. Babe Parilli worked his usual magic Saturday, firing two touchdown passes, and they trounced Tulane, 37-0.

It was the defensive platoon that got the headlines for a change in Wisconsin's 16-7 victory over Penn. The unsung heroes of the defense recovered a bad pass from center in the end zone, intercepted a pass for a touchdown and scored a safety in the intersectional victory scored by the Badgers, number nine team in the poll.

Baylor knocked Texas out of its number one ranking and jumped back into the thick of the Southwest Conference scramble with a 18-6 victory over the Longhorns. Pass-minded Baylor scored three times on running plays, while the Longhorns, who usually prefer the ground, passed for their only touchdown.

League-leading Texas Christian was idle, but Rice kept in the fight when Billy Burkhalter plunged across the Arkansas goal in the last two minutes for a 6-0 win.

A possibility for the visiting role in the Cotton Bowl—as well as the Orange and perhaps the Sugar Bowl. Very possibly the Sugar if Tennessee should stumble—is Kentucky. The team from the Blue Grass state got off slowly, but they're moving now like a top thoroughbred coming down the stretch in the derby. Babe Parilli worked his usual magic Saturday, firing two touchdown passes, and they trounced Tulane, 37-0.

Baylor knocked Texas out of its number one ranking and jumped back into the thick of the Southwest Conference scramble with a 18-6 victory over the Longhorns. Browns Rally To Decisions Eagles, 20-17

By Ralph Roden

New York, (AP)—Those old standbys, Lou "The Toes" Groza and Otto Graham, came through in the clutch again yesterday to lead the Cleveland Browns to an important 20-17 triumph over the Philadelphia Eagles.

The victory enabled the Browns to maintain their slight lead over the New York Giants in the American Conference of the National Football League. The Giants kept pace by turning back the Washington Redskins, 23-14. The Giants and Browns clash head on next Sunday in New York with the lead at stake.

In the National Conference, the Detroit Lions upset the Chicago Bears, 41-28, and the Los Angeles Rams polished off the Chicago Cardinals, 45-21. The results left the Rams and the Bears tied for the lead, each with five victories and two defeats.

In other games of lesser importance, the Pittsburgh Steelers crushed the Green Bay Packers and the San Francisco 49ers defeated the New York Yanks in the last minute, 19-14.

Graham threw two touchdown passes and Groza booted two field goals and two conversions. Groza's second field goal, a 14 yarder, came with only nine and a half minutes to go and won the game.

A Cleveland crowd of 36,571 fans saw the Eagles roll up a 10-0 half-time lead but then Groza and Graham took over.

Impressive

Villanova's Wildcats looked impressive in turning back the University of Detroit, 26 to 7. Playing probably one of the toughest schedules of any Pennsylvania college, the Wildcats (5-1) meet Boston College next.

Pitt meets West Virginia Saturday and Penn State (4-3) takes on Rutgers of New Jersey. Temple (6-2-0), enjoying one of its best seasons since the days of Glenn "Pop" Warner, must get by Fordham.

Good Offense

The Giants' vaunted defense proved to be the New York's best offense against the Redskins. The defense recovered three fumbles and intercepted six of Sammy Baugh's passes to set up three touchdowns. Otto Schenkelbacher, a member of the Giants' "umbrella defense," clinched the game by intercepting one of Baugh's passes in the final period and racing 40 yards for a touchdown.

Penn (3-4-0) has a chance to break even in a disappointing season when it entertains the de-emphasized Army Cadets at Franklin Field on Saturday.

The National Collegiate Athletic association's television experiment went into the small college field at Lancaster as Franklin and Marshall defeated Washington and Jefferson, 34 to 0. The crowd of 5,000 was about normal.

Lebanon Valley held unbeaten Western Maryland scoreless in the first half but the southerners struck for three fast touchdowns in the third period to take a final 20-12 victory at Lebanon and extend their streak to seven games.

Around the teacher college circuit, Brockport of New York played a poor host to Edinboro Teachers scoring in the first, third and fourth quarters to tally a 20-7 victory.

At Kutztown, a homecoming crowd of about 1,000 alumni watched their team dazzle Millersville Teachers with a touchdown-passing parade and emerge on the winning end of a 33-14 score.

A touchdown and a field goal spelled victory for Shippensburg over Indiana in a 9-0 game that saw the Indians vainly take to the air after a strong Red Raider line held them cold.

The Cards notched a pair of tallies in the last period, but they were offset by another Ram score and a field goal.

The bad-luck Yanks, who have not won a game but who have been scaring their opposition half to death, almost beat the 49ers.

With just 50 seconds left to play and the Yanks a touchdown ahead, the Rams' Y. A. Tittle tossed a 47-yard pass to Pete Schabarum to get the ball to the seven. Then Tittle threw to Billy Wilson in the end zone for the score and the victory.

Home Runs

The Americans slammed out three home runs—two in the second by Mel Parnell and Joe Tipps, and another in the eighth by Ray Perry.

They tallied 21 hits off five Japanese pitchers. Parnell, who went the route, allowed only four hits.

Tokyo, (AP)—The American baseball all stars whipped a Japanese all star team 12-0 yesterday the game at Meiji Park was witnessed by more than 50,000 fans, including Gen. and Mrs. Matthew B. Ridgway.

Marines To Play In Cigar Bowl

Tampa, Fla. (AP)—The Camp LeJeune (N.C.) Marines, one of the nation's strongest service football teams, last night was picked to play in the annual Cigar Bowl game here December 29.

Announcement

C. A. Brown, team selection chairman, who announced the Marines would play, said the other team will be announced today. It also will be a service team.

The Marines have won five games, lost two and tied one against stiff competition.

Bucknell Uses Extra Point To Take Measure Of Colgate, 21-20

By William J. Alexander

Philadelphia, (AP)—Bucknell, Bloomsburg and Susquehanna kept their unbeaten and untied football records clean over the weekend but the Bisons of Lewisburg had a scare in marking up their eighth straight win.

An extra point kick by Joe Mason was the single margin of victory for Bucknell in turning back the Colgate Red Raiders, 21 to 20.

Bloomsburg virtually clinched the first official football championship of the newly formed Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference by upsetting West Chester, 16 to 7.

And the Alonzo Staggs, senior and junior, watched their Susquehanna University eleven defeat Haverford, 27 to 7, for the Crusaders' fifth straight.

The state's four larger schools split. University of Pittsburgh (0-7-0) scored the daylights out of Ohio State before dropping a 16-14 verdict and Penn journeyed to Madison, Wis., to lose 16-7.

Meanwhile, Temple was trouncing a poor New York University, 34 to 6 and the Nittany Lions of Penn State returned to the win column with a 32-13 triumph over Syracuse.

Bucknell (8-0-0) has only Delaware to face Saturday to complete an undefeated season.

Bloomsburg (7-0-0) must get by Indiana Teachers (5-2-1) this weekend and Susquehanna (5-0-0)

meets Ursinus (5-2-1) to wrap up its season.

Pittsburgh (8-0-0) is on the way back to football fame and glory despite its seven straight defeats this season.

Large Crowd

Neither team is experiencing a good year in 1951, but another banner crowd is expected because of the intense local rivalry.

Wilkes-Barre, coached by North Carolina alumnus George Ralston, runs from the conventional single wing attack. The Colonels have one of the best backs in the state in the person of Al Nicholas, former all-state performer at Auburn, N. Y.

Nicholas wrecked the Monarchs last year with an outstanding individual performance.

King's, working from this split T-formation in 1951, is coached by former La Salle College Little All-American Jim Montero. Montero's Monarchs have defeated Delaware State and Mansfield and have lost to Scranton, St. Francis, St. Vincent, Trenton Teachers, and Arnold. King's has a strong aerial attack, with passers John Kazmerowicz, Bob Olsan, and Joe Marinko, ready to sting the Colonels.

Captains Turn Pro

Durham, N. C. (AP)—The last three captains of Duke University football teams—Billy Cox, Lou Allen and Al DeRogatis—are playing professional football. Cox plays with the Washington Redskins, Allen for the Pittsburgh Steelers and DeRogatis for the New York Giants.

Woman Suffers Injury When Cars Collide

Blakeslee—A Scranton man was injured seriously when his stalled auto was struck from behind at 12:05 a.m. yesterday two miles north of here on Route 115.

The man, George Veronkski, 20, was taken by ambulance to the Wilkes-Barre Veterans hospital where he was treated for a brain concussion, possible fracture of the right ankle and multiple cuts.

Brodheadsville State police said Veronkski had stalled and was trying to get his car started again, when it was struck by the auto of Mike Katrenick, 40, New York City.

Both cars were headed in a southerly direction, police said, and the Katrenick car hit the stalled vehicle a glancing blow. Damages of $700 were reported to the front of the Katrenick car, and $350 to the rear of the Veronkski auto.

Load Shifts; Truck Tips Over On Side

Effort—The truck of Charles H. Scannell, 30, Philadelphia, tipped over when its load shifted at 4:50 p.m. Saturday a mile north of here on Route 115.

Brodheadsville State police said Scannell was driving the 1939 truck south, when he suddenly came upon a vehicle which was parked partly on the highway.

Scannell swung to the left abruptly, causing the load to shift and overbalance the truck. Some $400 damage was done to the left side of the vehicle, but Scannell was uninjured.
